SMART SOLUTIONS FOR SMART CLIENTS

NICOLE BUSCHOR MANAGEMENT DIRECTOR

Nicole Buschor is management director of Evolution Design. She optimises our company's internal structures and supports our team by empowering them to deliver the best service to our clients.

Nicole sets up management processes, which are uniquely tailored to each project. She ensures that in working closely with clients we are able to deliver our project to the client's objectives, and on time and on budget.

Nicole's analytical skills and working methods enable us to manage our projects proactively and highly successfully.

«Factual, economical and legal aspects are important factors within a project. Analytical procedures and profound knowledge enable us to create the best business solutions for the most complex setups.»
